Dear the UK Government's Tobacco Policy Teem, with the state of plain you will be aware that the UK Government is considering the introduction of plain packaging of tobacco products. As the sure you're aware, one of the difficulties regarding the is that nobody has done this and therefore, there snit any hand evidence to show that it works. Therefore, I ann wondering whether the Australian government drafted any type
Toberoone, I am wohodring weather the Automation green and out any type of impact assessment or cost analysis in which the Reby benefits and costs are measured and if so, whether you would be writing to share this information with us. Many thanks, Tobscop Policy Department of Health Walington House 133-135 Waterloo Road London
